

Queen Mary's SCHOOL

Dear Parents,

On Friday 3rd February all S3 girls will be attending the Poetry Live event in Leeds.

During the course of the day we shall hear the poems from the AQA Anthology read and discuss some by the poets themselves. Also, there will be sessions by one of the chief examiners who will give a talk about how to tackle the examination papers. This is a valuable opportunity to develop the girls' appreciation of the poetry and to gain an insight into how to improve their performance in the examinations.

We shall leave school at 9:00a.m. and return by 4:10pm. Packed lunches will be provided. The cost is 26 pounds and has already been paid as it appeared on your bill at the end of last term.

I should also like to offer the girls the chance to see a production of An Inspector Calls. This is a GCSE text and the chance to see a live production just before the examination is too good an opportunity to miss and so I have booked tickets for all girls in S2 and S3 for Friday 20th April. I should be grateful if you would let me or the office know if your daughter cannot attend the performance.

Kind regards

Dawn Coull
